WINTER HOMES IN 5TH AV.

Capital Scored for Trying to 'Smash Labor Unions' and Grinding Workers.

Resolutions calling upon the city, State and Federal Governments to provide shelter, compensation and work for the unemployed were adopted unanimously yesterday afternoon at an unemployment conference in Astoria Hall, 62 East Fourth street, called by the newly organized Unemployment Council of New York, a body formed by a group of radical labor union locals. It was stated openly at the meeting that the council did not hope to have its demands met but that they were put forth purely as propaganda in an effort to organize the unemployed as a means of reducing the number of potential strike breakers. Forty-seven locals were represented in the gathering of about 100 men and women. They listened for more than three hours to condemnation of the capitalist class, the Hoover unemployment conference and the American Legion, which latter body was characterized as the agent of the "idle aristocracy." The present condition of unemployment was declared a conspiracy of capital to smash labor unionism and the remedy suggested was that the unions enter into a partnership with the unemployed. One of the resolutions called upon organized labor for a per capita tax to provide at least one meal a day for the unemployed. This would be dispensed, according to the plan, in halls throughout the city, where the unemployed would be fed equal portions of propaganda and soup, but mostly propaganda. Discussion from the floor of the score or more of resolutions submitted disclosed what appeared to be the true object of the gathering. Albert Goldman, one of the organizers, declared that if the city, State or nation did not comply with the demands "the unemployed will do so themselves." This remark was made during discussion of a resolution asking the city to use public buildings as shelters for the unemployed. Use of the word public in referring to the character of the buildings was objected to because a delegate averred that the city, State or nation did not have the right to use public buildings for such a purpose. Patrick J. McClellan, who acted as chairman, said he thought the word "public" should be left out. "There are some fine residences along Fifth avenue," he added, "which will be vacant this winter when their occupants go South. They would make fine homes for the unemployed."

The opinions of McClellan, Goldman and I. Amter, secretary of the meeting, prevailed in all discussions. Amter read the previously prepared resolutions and McClellan and Goldman vied with each other in explaining their utopian aims. Among these were ones which called upon the city, State and nation to begin building at once for its needs for the next ten years; enactment of a six hour day law; compensation for the unemployed at the rate of $20 a week for a single person, $25 for a married and $30 a week for married persons with children; a bonus for ex-soldiers and, lastly but not least, recognition and the opening up of trade relations with the Soviet Government of Russia. The money to compensate the unemployed could be raised, the resolution stated, by taxing an income of $5,000 a year or over. Ways and means of making effective the demands of the conference were incorporated in a separate resolution and included the holding of meetings in various parts of the city; demonstrations at the City Hall and at Albany if the unemployed could raise the railroad fare, and parades to show the public the degree of unemployment. For the present, however, the council will confine itself to a meeting next Saturday afternoon in the rooms of the United Labor Council, 33 East Fourth street, at which the union delegates will report how much their locals are prepared to spend on the campaign. Should enough be raised the council will hire Madison Square Garden for one of its meetings.

9 INDICTED IN 28 CASES

Brooklyn Grand Jury Dismisses
19 Charges—Wife Drops
Home Brew Complaint.

Of twenty-eight cases charging violations of State liquor law nineteen dismissals were filed by the Brooklyn Grand Jury yesterday. Arrests under the Mulan-Gage act, it was learned, after having fallen off to almost nothing, are again increasing in frequency. The nine indictments found by the jury will be taken before Judge Hayes next Friday for pleading. Among the cases dismissed was that of Samuel Dropkin, in which the position was taken that a business man may use a restaurant as his private office and treat his employees to whiskey while paying them there. Dropkin was arrested in a restaurant at 247 Osborn street, Brooklyn, where a policeman found him sitting at a table with a bottle of whiskey and several glasses at his elbow. He did not deny that while paying off his men he was offering them a drink, but declared he had legal possession of the liquor and that the restaurant for the time being was his office. A complaint against Thomas Ferron of 238 Sixteenth street, Brooklyn, was brought by his wife, who said he was manufacturing whiskey in the house. This case was dismissed on her plea that he had "learned his lesson" and that she needed him to support her. Raymond Murphy, a peddler, was arrested under the Mulan-Gage act with several bottles of whiskey in his possession which he said he obtained by trading pieces of fur for them. He had some of the fur with him at the time of his arrest. His case, too, was dismissed.

ALCOHOL KILLS A DERELICT.

Man Found in the Bowery Dies in Bellevue Hospital.

James Joyce, 44, homeless, found in a dazed condition in front of 28 Bowery, died of alcohol poisoning yesterday after he had been taken to Bellevue Hospital. An autopsy will be held. The police said they believed Joyce had obtained some of the "smoke" which Bowery bootleggers are dispensing. This consists of wood alcohol and milk.

WHOLE CITY INVITED TO ASSIST K. OF C. FUND

15 Story Building Planned for Midtown Section.

Every person in this city, except the unemployed and the disabled former service men will be asked this week to contribute to the fund for building a Knights of Columbus welfare centre. In the last week Knights of Columbus councils alone have pledged $250,000 of the $500,000 which the organization is seeking. The appeal to non-members and non-Catholics will be that welfare work in the building will aid all classes in the city. William P. Larkin, in charge of the campaign, said yesterday that tentative plans call for a fifteen story building probably somewhere in the upper part of the theatrical district. The use of the building will allow between 3,000 and 4,000 persons to make use of it at the same time.

THE REV. S. J. DONOHUE SECRETARY TO HAYES

Archbishop Names Him to Succeed Mgr. J. P. Dineen.

The Rev. Stephen J. Donohue, a native of New York, has been appointed secretary to Archbishop Hayes to succeed the Very Rev. Mgr. Joseph P. Dineen. The new secretary is 28 years old and a graduate of Holy Name School, Amsterdam avenue and Ninety-sixth street. He entered Cathedral College, of which the Archbishop was president at the time, and won the Cardinal Farley medal for general excellence, after which he went to St. Joseph's Seminary, Dunwoodie, where he remained for a year. He later attended the American College, Rome, and was ordained in May, 1918, but he remained over a few months in order to receive the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology. Returning home he was assigned to the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, West Seventy-first street, to substitute for Dr. Little, war chaplain, at the same time becoming a member of the faculty of Cathedral College, Madison avenue. Then he was transferred to the Church of St. Gregory the Great, West Ninety-sixth street, to assist the Rev. Dr. William F. Hughes, rector. He became assistant secretary to the Archbishop in January, 1920.

SACCO AND VANZETTI MEETING IS HALTED

Newark Police Revoke License and Guard Hall to Prevent Demonstration.

A Sacco-Vanzetti demonstration which was to have been held yesterday in Laurel Garden, 457 Springfield avenue, Newark, was prevented when William J. Brennan, Police Commissioner, revoked the permit for the meeting and sent a detachment of policemen to guard the hall. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, who, with Arturo Giovannitti and Carlo Tresca, was to have spoken at the demonstration, said last night that she had asked her attorneys and the Civil Liberties Union to investigate and try to arrange another meeting in Newark for some time this week. "The Civil Liberties Union," said Miss Flynn, "will take charge of the Newark case, and I believe we will be in a position to hold a Sacco-Vanzetti demonstration in that city within the next few days. As a matter of fact, there will be demonstrations all over the country, and each protest meeting will be conducted peacefully and legally." Miss Flynn said that demonstrations would be held in thirty cities to-day, and that she expected an average of 5,000 persons to attend each meeting. Meetings, she said, will be held in Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Baltimore, Toledo, Seattle and Kansas City. Each will be under the auspices of some organization or group that is convinced of the innocence of Sacco and Vanzetti and that is willing to demand publicity that another trial be given to the convicted slayers.
